Subject: Microsoft Settlement

Dear DOJ,

I believe that the terms of the antitrust settlement between the Department of Justice and Microsoft are reasonable and fair to all parties.

It is critical for a speedy economic recovery of this great nation of ours that companies such as Microsoft be permitted to continue to innovate and enhance their products in order to maintain their position of providing the favored software used by more computer users than any other around the world.

We need to put this behind us and move forward.

Respectfully,

Alexander Kalymon
